All processing of personal data occurs in accordance with applicable legislation. Among other things, this means, that we protect your personal data with the use of the requisite measures, and it means that you will always have the right to contact us to find out what personal data about you we are saving. You can read more about your rights in these guidelines. You can also visit www.datainspektionen.se where you can learn more about your rights concerning our processing of your personal data.

If any questions arise about our processing of your personal data, you are certainly always welcome to contact us! Our contact information can be found at the bottom of the page.

You will also always have the right to file a complaint with the Swedish Data Protection Authority <https://www.datainspektionen.se/> or another competent regulatory authority within the EU, concerning the processing.

This is how Ängelholms Flygplats AB processes your personal data

These guidelines describe Ängelholms Flygplats AB's processing of your personal data and are applicable when you use our services or otherwise are in contact with us.

Who is responsible for your personal data?

Ängelholms Flygplats AB is the data controller vis-à-vis the processing of your personal data and has the responsibility for ensuring that such processing takes place in a lawful manner.

How does Ängelholms Flygplats AB obtain your personal data?

Ängelholms Flygplats AB collects personal data about you when, for instance, you sign up for a newsletter or a parking card on our website, fill out an expression of interest to work for us, attend any of our sales activities, trade fairs or events, contact our customer service centre or in any other manner provide information (such as filling out forms) that constitute the basis for future contracts, or when you provide information so that we will be able to fulfil our commitments to you.

What personal data is being processed?

Ängelholms Flygplats AB processes the personal data provided to us. This may concern your name, e-mail address, telephone number, postal address, date of birth and any other information that you have provided to us, or otherwise is necessary in order for us to be able to fulfil our commitments to you.

For what reasons does Ängelholms Flygplats AB process personal data about you?

Ängelholms Flygplats AB processes your personal data for a variety of different purposes. Primarily, to fulfil our commitments to you, including to provide good service and well-functioning, efficient and easy to access services.

In addition, your personal data will be processed in relation to our warranty obligations, customer and supplier surveys we conduct (in order for us to provide you with the possibility to influence our offers and services), to send out promotional offers concerning upcoming projects along with other offers. With the preparation and signing of a contract, it may occur that Ängelholms Flygplats AB orders a credit report on you, for the purpose of assessing your creditworthiness.

When does Ängelholms Flygplats AB have the right to obtain and process your personal data?

In order for Ängelholms Flygplats AB to be able to process your data, there must be grounds to do so in the applicable data protection regulation, referred to as a “legal basis.” This means that in order for our processing to be lawful, it is required that it is necessary in order to fulfil the obligations in an agreement with you, or that is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation. The processing of data may also be based on a balancing of interests.

In certain instances, Ängelholms Flygplats AB may require your consent before processing your personal data. When you provide your consent in these instances, you will always obtain clear and specific information about what you are consenting to.

Who has access to your personal data?

Your personal data is used by Ängelholms Flygplats AB and Ängelholms Flygplats AB’s data processors. We will not disclose personal data to other companies, unless we are required to do so due to a law, regulation, decision of a public authority, or to protect our rights or third party rights.

We will never pass on, sell or exchange your personal data to third parties outside of Ängelholms Flygplats AB for marketing purposes. Data is passed on to third parties only if this is required in order to fulfil an agreement entered into, or if there are requirements according to a statute or regulation.

How is your data protected?

Ängelholms Flygplats AB cares about protecting your personal integrity and privacy. Therefore we are constantly working to take all appropriate technical and organisational measures that are required in each individual case in order to protect your personal data, and in general to ensure that the processing occurs in compliance with applicable law.

How long will your data be retained?

Ängelholms Flygplats AB retains the information about you as long as is necessary for the purpose we collected it, or as required by law.

What rights do you have?

You are entitled to receive information (free of charge) concerning what personal data about you we have collected and are processing, in a registry extract.

If your information is incorrect, incomplete or irrelevant, you may want to have them corrected. You also have the right in certain instances to have personal data about you deleted. This applies in situations where, for instance the data is no longer necessary for the purposes for which it was collected, if you withdraw your consent and no other legal basis is present, or if the data has been processed in an unlawful manner. Ängelholms Flygplats AB is not allowed to delete certain personal data, such as where there is a statutory requirement to retain the data, for instance in accounting rules, or when there are other legitimate reasons why the data must be retained. At any time you want, you can raise an objection to the use of the data for direct marketing and other processing which is based on a weighing of interests. In such case, you will need to specify which processing in particular you are objecting to. If in our assessment we determine that such processing must nevertheless take place, we must show that there are interests that carry more weight.

If you want to invoke any of your rights, please send us a letter to the address below. The letter must be signed and contain a copy of an identification document. We will need this in order to ensure that we provide the information to the proper person. The reply will be sent to your address as registered in the Swedish civil population register.
